

The figure displays 20 distinct time series plotted against time (x-axis, 0 to 400). The series are characterized by different frequencies and amplitudes. Some series, like the cyan and yellow ones, show high-frequency, high-amplitude oscillations. Others, like the brown and red ones, show lower-frequency, lower-amplitude oscillations. The plot illustrates the diversity of patterns that can emerge from a single generative model.

